Investigators should follow the guidance below to ensure that they request a complete as possible set of call-related data (CRD).

[REDACTION]

General Considerations:

- You may not get a complete set of data. Undertaking these requests will give you the most complete set of data available
- Remember to justify the length of time you are requesting data for
- The police can also request CRD evidentially – if the police are running an evidential investigation alongside, ensure they regularly do so
- Do not discuss the CD capabilities with non-service staff
