*All gists in the following extract have been underlined

APPLICATION FOR AN SIS DATABASE ACCOUNT
To be completed by applicant

Name:	Designation:
Staff No:	Extension no/RUSSETT:
Date of application:

The database contains sensitive personal data, including on individuals who are not deemed to be of intelligence interest. Given the potential for intrusion into privacy, access to the application is controlled and only extended to users whose access to the data is necessary and proportionate to the Service's functions in law. Access to the database is specific to an individual's role and will be removed when you change post, after which you would be required to re-apply for access, if necessary, based on your new role.

Please explain how you would use the database in your current role:

Please explain why your use of the database would be necessary for the Service to exercise its functions for the purposes of national security, the economic wellbeing of the UK or the detection/prevention of serious crime:

How would your use of the database be proportionate to fulfilling the Service's functions – for example is there a less intrusive way for you to achieve the same objective without access to the database data?