

A
♦

What data is included in the electoral register?

2
♦

Do you need to give your consent for someone to access your data in the electoral register?

3
♦

Does the law stipulate who has access to the electoral register?

4
♦

Does the Electoral Commission keep a record of who has access to the electoral register?

5
♦

Does your country use biometric data to register voters?

6
♦

At the polling station,
are voters verified with their ID?

7
♦

At the polling station,
what voter verification documents are accepted?

8

At the polling station, if voters are verified by tech, what happens in case of tech failures?

9
♦

What safeguards are in place to protect e-voting from hacking?

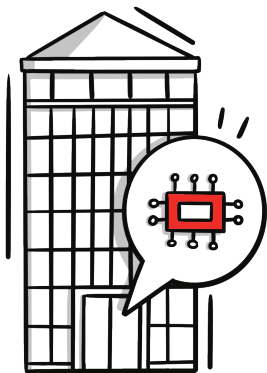

10

Does your country's Electoral Commission
have expertise in data protection &
cybersecurity?

J
♦

Do elections rely on private companies to provide tech?

What personal data do private companies that provide election tech have access to?

K
♦

Is there public information about the procurement of tech by private companies in elections?

A

Does your national law
protect the right to privacy, including your personal data?

2
♥

Does your national law
protect your personal data?

3
♥

Does your country have modern data protection legislation?

4

Does your country's data protection legislation cover processing of personal data by public authorities?

5

What redress is available
if your personal data has been abused during political campaigns?

6

Does your country have an independent national data protection
authority?

7

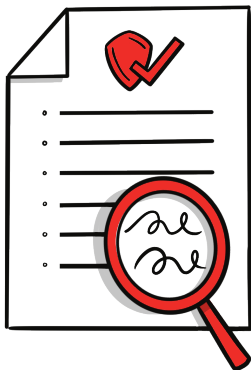

Does the data protection
authority give guidance on using personal data
in elections?

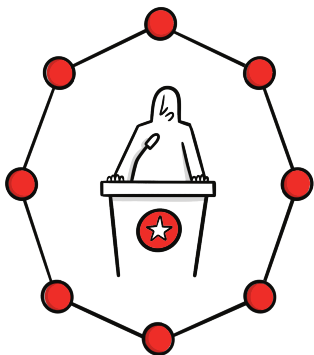

8

Is there a Code of Practice on the use of personal data in the electoral process?

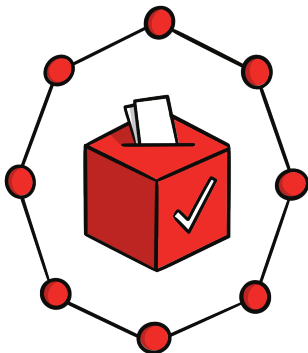

9

Does the applicable data protection framework include broad definition of "political campaigning"?

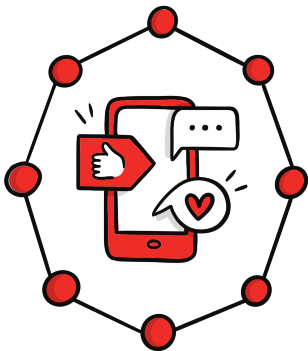

10

Does the data protection framework for political activities apply to the Electoral Commission?

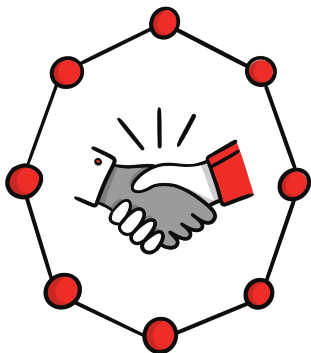

J
♥

Does the data protection
framework for political activities apply to social media and internet
platforms?

Q

Does the data protection
framework for political activities apply to data
brokers?

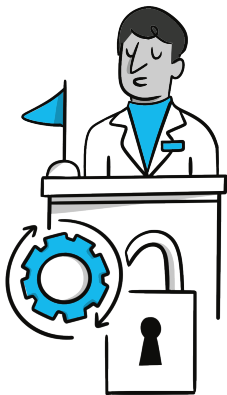

K

Does the data protection framework for political activities interpret personal data to include what is derived, inferred and predicted as the results of profiling?

A
♠

Does your country's data protection law apply to the data processed by political parties?

2
♠

Do political parties have data protection policies?

3
♠

Do political parties' policies have clear information about rights of individuals to protect their data?

4
♠

Do political parties
publish which personal data they get, where they get it from, and what they do with it?

5
♠

Do political parties carry out data protection impact assessments?

6
♠

Have political parties obtained consent from individuals to process
their data?

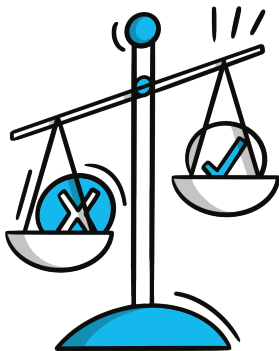

7
♠

Do political parties
assess if companies they contract for campaign activities comply with data protection
legislation?

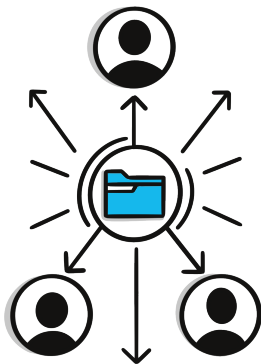

8

Do political parties assess whether companies they contract act lawfully?

9
♠

What security measures do political parties take to prevent unauthorised access or sharing of personal data?

10

Do political parties train those involved in political campaigns on privacy and data protection principles?

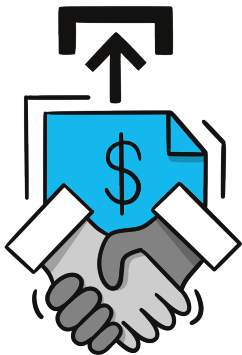

J
♠

Do political parties train those involved in political campaigns on data
security?

Do political parties
publish a list of campaign groups they have financial relationships with?

K
♠

Are political parties transparent in their political ads and messaging?

A
♣

Do social media platforms
have transparency policies around political ads?

2
♣

How can political parties reach users on their platforms?

3
♣

How do political parties
use personal data to advertise to voters?

4

Do political parties profile voters? If so, how?

5

Do political parties use targeted ads in their political campaigns?

6

How do political parties
use social media platforms to communicate with voters?

7
♣

Do social media platforms
comply with national data protection legislation?

8

Do the major platforms
have an in-country
contact person?

9

Can voters send complaints about political ads to platforms?

10

Can the Electoral Commission request user information from social media platforms?

How is online political advertising defined and regulated in law?

Q

Do the main internet platforms have transparency policies around targeting?

K

Do the main internet
platforms in your country allow regulators and researchers to monitor
political ads?

A technological flaw allows a malicious actors to tamper with online voting

The ruling political party repurposes data collected by the state for administering public services to spread its own campaign messages

Failure in the digital voting system requires postponement of an election

An election tech provider withholds a biometric database after unpaid instalments
by the Elections
Commission

TECH, DATA AND ELECTIONS CHECKLIST

TECH, DATA AND ELECTIONS CHECKLIST

TECH, DATA AND ELECTIONS CHECKLIST

TECH, DATA AND ELECTIONS CHECKLIST

TECH, DATA AND ELECTIONS CHECKLIST